Urbana Man Leaves Wife

An Urbana man recently left his wife after a heavy storm to find out if any damage had been done to the fences on his farm. He was glad to return to her with the information that every strand was in place.

Needless to Say, It Was an American Fence

For the American is the fence that stands the roughest weather and toughest wear—that resists hardest attacks of animals—because of its special construction of strong live wires.

The Efficiency of Buying At Home.

Did you ever stop to think what a convenience it is to have a full line of good retail stores? Home in our own community? It enables people to see goods at any time before paying down money. In that way the purchaser detects many faults that could never be found in buying from a catalog cut. Furthermore, you get your goods when you want them without bother letter writing, or without the fatigue of a journey to a big city and tramping all over its streets. It is an economy of time, car fares, human energy. Furthermore, you can do your shopping at your leisure, when you are in a mood for it, rather than in the haste and flurry of a trip out of town. In our home stores you take all the time you want to talk over your purchase and inspect goods. You can positively assure yourself that you are buying right.

Furthermore, you get more personal and intelligent attention in a home store than anywhere else. The proprietors and clerks must please home trade, or get out of business. It is human nature to take more pains for people that are known than for strangers. The home merchant will go the utmost limit to give satisfaction for defects in the goods and without irritating red tape. When locating for residence or business, people are as slow to settle in a place lacking good stores as in a place where the good is not good. If we want to draw in new residents, everyone must do his share to provide them with the conveniences of retail trade. The only way to do this is to patronize the home merchant. It is the good fortune of this community to have a line of finely equipped and attractively stocked retail stores. But if every dollar possible were spent at

CATARRH GONE

No More Hawking and Snuffling When You Breathe Hyomei.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei) is guaranteed to end the misery of catarrh. Breathe it, destroy the catarrh germs, and soon hawking and snuffling will cease.

Breathe it, and crusts will no longer form in the nose, mucus will not lodge in the throat; inflammation will leave the membrane of the nose and throat and your head will feel clear and fine.

Breathe it for coughs, colds and sore throat; its soothing, healing, antiseptic action is better than all the stomach dosing remedies in creation, and there isn't a particle of opium, cocaine or other habit forming drug in it. Complete outfit, which includes inhaler, $1. Extra bottles of HYOMEI 50 cents at D. L. Middleton and druggists everywhere.

A Case of Necessity.

A teacher desiring to test her class as to its knowledge of Irish history, interrogated the boys as follows:

"Patrick," she began, "why are you wearing a green ribbon to-day?"

"'Because it's the anniversary of the great and good St. Patrick, ma'am."

"Very well. And you, Michael, why are you wearing a green ribbon?"

"'Because St. Patrick is Ireland's patron saint, ma'am, and green is Ireland's color."

"Good! And now, Solomon Eckhardtstein, tell us why you in your turn are wearing a green ribbon?"

"'Because, ma'am, Pat and Mike and Denny said they'd bust my snoot if I didn't."

On or about May 1, the Schlegel Studio will be opened by the Schlegel Sisters. They will make it a high-class place in every respect. This does not mean that their places in Danville and Stanford will be closed. These places will be continued as formerly. Wait for us.

Hunting the Allen Outlaws.

Few persons can be showing better spirit this week than the sheriffs and deputies who are tracking the Allen gang through the Virginia and North Carolina mountains. Hunting the Appalachian mountaineer has been called staking the biggest of big game. It is always doubtful whether the sportsman gets his man, or the man gets the sportsman. The difficulties of life in these Virginia summits are illustrated in the experiences of Archdeacon F. W. Nave of the Blue Ridge. He tells of a young clergyman who was fired at several times, and finally warned that a certain mountaineer had threatened to shoot him at sight. He went immediately to the man's house, and called out, "I understand you are going to shoot me." The mountaineer was so taken aback that he dropped his weapon and engaged in pleasant chat.

The posse which is tracing the Allens is armed with something more offensive than hymn books, and if they find their men, will meet with a rougher reception. In spite of the aloofness of these hill people, they are scientific adepts at gun play, said to excel the Western frontiersman in quickness. The latest models of revolvers often find their way into the highlands two months after they are first issued from the factory. A government surveyor gave in Ouing a few years ago an account of the marksmanship of the Appalachian mountaineers. A half dollar was tipped in the air at a distance of 50 feet. The mountaineer shot twice, pulling the gun so quickly that no one saw him move. Picking up the coin he showed the hole clean through the center, and another furrowing the milling on the edge. The first shot must have deflected the coin, and how he hit it again was a marvel. This is the kind of thing the Allen gang pursuers are up against. These are called bloodless times, but our officers of the law must often take about the risks involved by going to war.

FOR CONGRESS.
We are authorized to announce JACK CHINN, a candidate for Congress in the Eighth District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held August 5, 1912.

The bill repealing the tax on sugar, which will reduce the price to the consumer 2 cents a pound if the measure is enacted into law, and the bill to place a tax on all incomes of more than $5,000 a year, are two of the most important measures passed by the House of Representatives in the last quarter of a century. These bills, conceived and framed by Democratic Committees, were so good in fact, that eighty Republicans were forced to vote for them. "Forced to vote for them" is the correct expression, because the Republicans refused steadfastly when in power to pass such legislation, or even to consider it, but when the Democrats forced them to vote one way or the other, they were afraid to vote against either bill lest their constituents retire them to private life.

PRESIDENT TAFT. In a recent letter to Chairman Keegan, of the Maryland State Republican Committee, using this language: "I hope you will see to it that all voters are allowed to cast their ballots at the coming primaries." Apparently, it does not occur to the President that as free born American citizens they have the perfect and inalienable right to cast their votes, without waiting for Mr. Keegan or anybody else to "allow" them that privilege.

The Steel Trust investigation and the Lawrence mill strike proved beyond the shadow of a doubt, that protection does not mean good wages in this country. In practically every line of industry outside of those controlled by the tariff trusts American wages are higher than they are abroad. The trusts work their men harder, and pay them less than men similarly employed abroad receive.

MR. W. J. BRAXAS has the following to say regarding his preference in the Presidential race: "The Commoner has not expressed a preference between Wilson and Clark. It would favor Clark in any State where Clark is stronger than Wilson. It would favor Wilson in any State where Wilson is stronger than Clark." So as a matter of fact, the Commoner seems to be on the fence.

The Republicans in convention in Louisville last week carried out the Taft program in entirety and sent to the National Convention a Taft delegation, headed by Senator W. O. Bradley.

Assessment Raise Made Advised.

It is said that the tentative assessment of the franchises of the railroads of Kentucky were not made by the Board of Valuations and Assessments without complete information regarding the earnings, net and gross, of the railroads, and for this reason it is believed that the large increases made will not be reduced to any appreciable extent. In gathering the facts for the assessment, it is said in behalf of the Board, that it had all the information that could be obtained and went deeper into the investigation of the condition of the railroads than has ever been attempted by any other Board.

John L. Rich, of Covington, who was employed by the Board to make the investigation into the value of the railroad franchises, obtained reports made to stockholders as well as the reports made to the Auditor, and a wide difference was found in the two statements. It is said. It was largely the reports to the stockholders that is responsible for the increase in the franchises. Mr. Rich found, he reports, that the railroads reported smaller earnings to the Auditor than to the stockholders. Only a few corporations besides the railroads were assessed by the Board at its Thursday meeting. Other public utility corporations will be assessed at a meeting of the Board to be held the middle of next week.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

LINCOLN'S ANSWER TO SEWARD.

By A. W. MACY.

William H. Seward and his friends were sorely disappointed at his failure to secure the nomination for the presidency in 1860. Lincoln displayed both sagacity and magnanimity when he gave his defeated rival the most important place in his cabinet. At the time Lincoln was largely unknown quantity, while Seward was a man of much experience in public affairs. Seward's friends confidently expected him to be the strong man of the cabinet, and even to overshadow the executive. Shortly after entering upon his duties he handed Lincoln a note, containing "Some Thoughts for the President's Consideration." Among other things he suggested the necessity that some one should take the lead and grapple boldly with the situation, closing with these words: "Either the president must do it himself, or devote it upon some member of the cabinet." It is not my special province, but I neither seek to evade or assume responsibility." Lincoln answered the note the same day.

On the question of leadership he simply said, "If this must be done, I must do it." The matter was dropped then and there, and with fine discretion Lincoln kept the correspondence secret.

"Bob" Taylor's Last Words.

The last letter penned by the late Senator Robert L. Taylor, a communication to George R. Shields, of the Tennessee Society, was read to the members of the organization at a memorial service held in the Women's Christian Temperance Union building last Tuesday night.

The letter was in reply to a request of the members that the noted statesman address their meeting, and the affair which was to have been the Tennessee "boomer" variety, was transformed by the death of Senator Taylor into one of eulogy.

The text of this letter has a peculiar significance, written in the humorous vein, which was one of the famous characteristics of the noted Tennesseean. It refers to the attempts of political opponents to "get his scalp" and states that he expected to be in Nashville "up to his ears" in politics at this time. The letter in full reads as follows:

March 10, 1912.—George R. Shields, Esq., Bond Building, City—My Dear Mr. Shields: It will be altogether impossible for me to be present at the next meeting of the Tennessee Society, April 21, as I expect to be in Tennessee up to my ears in politics. It would afford me much pleasure to do so if I had the opportunity, but in the language of the old song:

"They're after me, they're after me; 'I am the individual they require; 'They're after me, they're after me; 'To get my scalp, they say, is their desire." R. L. T.

The communication was mailed on the evening of March 16, the date of Mr. Taylor's first illness, and was the last signed by him. It will be placed in the archives of the society.—Washington Herald.

Suits for the young men, middle age and the old gentleman—ready-to-wear, one price, one quality—$10. RICE & ARNOLD.

The new fish law, passed by the last Legislature, inflicts a heavy penalty for the use of set-nets in any Kentucky waters. It also makes it a felony, punishable by a term in the penitentiary for anyone to use dynamite in any stream or pond in Kentucky. Dynamite will probably hereafter look well to the banks and bends of streams, and sets wittingly around the ponds before dymitting.

SHOES FOR SPRING

Shoe fashions are most important and a disregard of their selection may mar the most effective costume.

In "Queen Quality" you always find the mode of the moment. This season there should be related touches between the various details of your costume. This gives full sway to the tendency towards the novel effects in colors and materials that characterize the new "Queen Quality" models.

In addition to the usual Tan, Black, and White, the diversity of color represented in the new "Queen Quality" styles is particularly pleasing, especially when the ideas are carried out with such good taste and judgment.

"Queen Quality" is always in the vanguard on style matters and this, coupled with their extreme flexibility and fine fit, insures to the wearer not only elegance of line, but ease from the first moment worn.

If you wish to see styles that are different from those shown elsewhere, shoes that represent your own idea of what fashionable footwear should be, a splendid assortment in all the newest patterns, leathers and fabrics, you should see our Spring showing of "Queen Quality."

We want you to see them at once. Why not to-day?

It has long been a Democratic custom in Madison county to give a second term to those officials who perform their duty well during the first term of office, and you can make no mistake by deciding to cast your vote for R. B. Terrill for reelection to the office of County Court Clerk. His record is open for the closest inspection. 41-17.

Seventeen Potatoes To Bushel. Messrs. Sewell & McKinney are displaying some of the finest Irish potatoes ever seen on the local market. They have a quantity of the Early Rose variety, seventeen of which fills a bushel measure. 41-17.

Sheep Claims Paid. The amount collected in this county and allowed for sheep and lambs killed during the year, was about $1,400. The claims granted to the owners were for about $800, and all were paid in full and no deductions, leaving a balance for the school of about $500. This is an excellent showing, especially since many adjoining counties have cut their claims, in some instances in half. 41-17.

Fine Specimen. Mr. Thomas Tribble brought to THE CLIMAX office Monday an Irish potato weighing three and one-half pounds. The Sun in Eclipse. An eclipse of the sun will take place today, and will be seen to the best advantage in Europe. In this country the sun will be partly eclipsed in most of the Southern, Middle and Eastern States. The path of totality begins at Venezuela, crosses the Atlantic and traverses the northeast corner of Portugal and Spain, and passes over Paris and near Leide, Hamburg and St. Petersburg and ends in Siberia. 41-17.

Important Announcement. We received last week several communications for publication that failed to reach us until Wednesday, consequently the articles failed to appear in that issue. THE CLIMAX goes to press about three o'clock Tuesday afternoon and all articles should be in this office not later than noon to insure publication of same. We appreciate having our friends and readers send in news items, but desire to have them well fresh, and trust that in the future all notices will be in before Tuesday noon. 41-17.

Misses and children's strap pumps in gun metal, tan and patent. 41-17.

Disastrous Fire. Richmond was visited Friday morning with the most disastrous fire the city has had for many years. About five o'clock the barn of Mr. Harnett was discovered to be in flames and before the fire department could respond to the alarm, the lumber yards and mill of the Blanton-Congleton Lumber Co. were a solid blaze. The origin of the conflagration is supposed to have resulted from burning rubbish, a spark from which ignited the barn of Mr. Harnett. The brick blower that was blowing, caused the flames to spread rapidly. In addition to the above mentioned, the L. & A. railroad station and Flat Rock Hotel, together with nine box cars loaded with freight, were soon reduced to ashes. The Blanton-Congleton Co. probably suffered the greatest loss. The plant and lumber consumed amount to about thirty thousand dollars, with less than $10,000 insurance. An estimate of damage to the L. & A. could not be ascertained. Flat Rock Hotel, about $2,000. Madison Tobacco Warehouse, about $1,000. W. H. Douglas Coal Co.'s offices were considerably damaged, and several other adjacent buildings were damaged more or less. Not daunted by their great loss the Blanton-Congleton Lumber Co. will continue with their business, and are now filling all orders on their books and taking care of new business. They have an advertisement elsewhere in THE CLIMAX, which will be to your interest to read. 43-17.

Everything in men's low shoes. Come and look them over. 41-17.

Col. Jack Chinn Announces For Congress.

Elsewhere in today's CLIMAX will be found the formal announcement of Col. Jack Chinn, of Harrodsburg, as a candidate for Congress from the Eighth Congressional District. Col. Chinn has always proven loyal to Democratic principles, resolute in his character, and his activities in behalf of the farmers and tobacco growers of the State will bring to his support many who appreciate the service so generously rendered in their behalf. As a member of the Legislature and State Senate, Col. Chinn made an enviable record, which remains an open book and unquestionably commends him to the voters for their support in the primary election in August. Col. Chinn earnestly solicits the support of the Democracy of Madison county, and if elected pledges to perform the duties of the high office with credit alike to himself and his constituents. 41-17.

Art Exhibit. For the convenience of those not being able to attend the Art Exhibit at Caldwell High School during the day the doors will be open Friday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. See notice elsewhere. 41-17.

Poultry Business Booming. Mr. A. L. Gott, the poultry man, says there has never been a time when more poultry was on the market or a time when the farmers and housewives were getting a better price than now. The New York market is flooded and yet not enough received to supply the demand. One day last week was a record breaker, 200 carloads more than ever received in one day being the record. 41-17.

Important Notice. I wish to announce to the public that I am prepared to do stamping and furnish embroidery materials of all kinds. I have secured the patterns and flosses of Mrs. Russell Blanton and trust I may receive a part of the generous patronage formerly given her. Can be found at my home 601 W. Main street. Very respectfully, Mrs. W. EMMA BLANTON. 43-17.

Madison Stock In Contest. The Louisville Post International agency contest is being watched with great interest among the poultry fanciers over the entire country. This contest began April 1, and is being held at "Relax," the beautiful stock farm of Senator T. H. Payne, near Frankfort. Among those entered are making "great records" as shown by the Post's published statement of Saturday, are the Harrodsburg owned by A. D. and C. D. Miller, of this city, who are tied for first place in this class. Mr. J. Coleman Neff, of Richmond, also comes in for honors. He has a pen of White Rocks that occupy third position in that class. 41-17.

Deaths

The birds will sing on and the nightingale still echo its plaintive melody when the moon hangs mellow over Happy Valley, but there will be a lost chord in the minstrelsy of "Sunny Tennessee," through all the days that are yet to come, for "Bob" Taylor has hung up for aye the lidle and the bow, and has gone out on the long journey across the Silver Sea whose placid wave never yet has "borne the image of returning sail."—From an exchange. 41-17.

Deaths. Mrs. Fannie Jones, wife of H. C. Jones, died at her home in this city, last Thursday, aged fifty-six years. She leaves to mourn her loss a kind and loving husband, one son, Squire Jones, and a daughter, Miss Annie Jones. Two sisters survive, Mrs. Sallie Meeks and Miss Nannie Harris, all of whom, were with her when death came. Mrs. Jones was united with the Christian church twenty years ago and was a devout member of that congregation at the time of her death. She possessed a mild disposition and was ever ready to comfort those in distress. Her illness covered a period of five months and during her affliction she bore up with great fortitude. She has now gone to that land of rest, where pain and suffering are unknown. Many friends extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved family. Funeral services were conducted at the residence Saturday morning by Rev. E. B. Barnes, of the Christian church, followed by interment in the Richmond Cemetery. 41-17.

Deaths. Mr. Henry Jacobs, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Estill county, died at his home in Irvine Saturday, aged eighty-four years. Death was due to infirmities incident to old age. His remains were interred in the Richmond cemetery at West Irvine. Deceased is survived by several children, and his death removes from Irvine one of its most familiar figures and prominent citizens. 41-17.

Deaths. A telephone message yesterday morning to Mr. E. H. Hybee announced the death of Mr. Sterling of Mrs. Mary Beaumark. Her death evidently came suddenly as her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Hybee, of this city, had no intimation of her illness. The message simply announced the demise of this well known and estimable lady and at hour of going to press the particulars could not be ascertained. Mrs. Beaumark was the widow of Valentine Beaumark, of this county, who preceded her to the great beyond many years ago. She divided her time between her children at Waco and her daughter, Mrs. C. K. Oldham, of Mt. Sterling, at the home where she died. She is survived by the following children: John Waco; William, Georgetown; Mrs. W. S. Grinstead, London; Mrs. Annie Singleton, Millersburg; Mrs. E. H. Hybee, this city; Mrs. C. K. Oldham, Mt. Sterling; and Mrs. Thomas Oldham, this county. 41-17.
